The organisation that requests the membership during the current year, will only pay the (to ratio) remaining contribution for that year, under the condition that the organisation will remain a member for the following complete year. If the membership is ended prematurely, the organisation authorizes MinacNed to collect the remaining contribution for the foregoing year.

If an organisation is a member of MinacNed and one or more FHI-branches, then the organisation can become a MinacNed-member for a reduced fee. The discount for one extra branch amounts to 25%; for two or more branches the discount amounts to 50%.

Regarding the memberships procedure we kindly ask you to answer the following questions:
